

Every text component on one page

This is the lead paragraph style. It runs a little larger so openers breathe.

This paragraph tests the drop cap. The first letter floats large and amber, and the following lines wrap around it the way a chapter opener should. Body text is Lato at 14.5px with relaxed leading for long reading sessions.

REPS

1. Stand at your start distance. Wait for the dog to notice the trigger.
2. Offer one pea-sized treat at the nose.
3. Score the mouth: instant / slow / refused.

✓ PASS — MOVE ON WHEN

- Dog eats instantly on 3 straight reps
- Loose leash the whole time

✗ STOP — BACK UP WHEN

- Dog refuses food twice
- Any bark, lunge, or freeze

✗ IF IT GOES WRONG

Dog explodes mid-rep? U-turn, add two cars of distance, breathe, restart at the easier line.

- ✓ A checklist item
- ✓ Another good thing
- ✗ A thing this is NOT
- ✗ Another myth

Symptom	Meaning	Do
Won't eat	Over threshold	Add distance
Eats slowly	Yellow zone	Hold or add 1 car

DAY 7

PHASE 2 • ANCHOR

Install the loop on moving triggers at 6 cars

THE FOOD TEST – YOUR DOG'S MOUTH IS THE GAUGE

1 EATS INSTANTLY
soft + fast grab

= GREEN ZONE

2 EATS SLOWLY
hard mouth, distracted

= YELLOW ZONE

3 WON'T EAT
head locked on trigger

= RED ZONE

offer one pea-sized treat at the moment the dog notices a trigger – the answer IS the zone
